The Vaughn Monroe Orchestra transports the audience to October 1949, just after World War II. Audiences will hear songs such as "Racing with the Moon," "There, I've Said It Again," "Ballerina," "Let it Snow" and "Ghost Riders in the Sky" through special arrangement with the Monroe family and New England Conservatory.

For more than seven decades, the legendary Bucky Pizzarelli has had a stellar career. The legendary guitarist got his start at age 17 playing with Vaughn Monroe. As "the complete jazz musician," he has been a fixture in jazz and the studios since the 1940s. One of the era's most solid rhythm players, Pizzarelli was in high demand, playing and touring with Benny Goodman, Zoot Sims, Bud Freeman, Stephane Grappelli, The Tonight Show Band and Frank Sinatra. At the age of 91, he still tours and performs all over the world.
