Worcester, Mass. (November 13, 2024) Chelmsford teen, Lillian Rogers reprises the role of Christmas Past at The Hanover Theatre this winter. The classic Charles Dickens' masterpiece, A Christmas Carol, returns to The Hanover Theatre and Conservatory for the Performing Arts' main stage December 15-22, generously sponsored by Assumption University.

Tickets are on sale now!

Rogers is thrilled to return to Worcester for a fourth consecutive winter to appear in A Christmas Carol at The Hanover Theatre during the most wonderful time of the year! While portraying the iconic ghost last year, Rogers was described by TheatreMirror reviewer, Tony Annicone, as one who "tugs on your heartstrings." Her passion for the stage was sparked in second grade when she was cast as Gretl in The Sound of Music. The busy and talented Rogers will appear in the role of Belle in Beauty and the Beast at Chelmsford High next weekend! She is a board member of her high school's theatre guild and choreographer of their competitive acapella group.

Acting President and CEO of The Hanover Theatre, Troy Siebels directs New England's largest production of A Christmas Carol for a 17th season with lavish costumes, spine-tingling special effects, and one-of-a-kind orchestrations produced on the theatre's beloved theatrical pipe organ, the Mighty Wurlitzer. Siebels announced in July that this year's production of A Christmas Carol will feature a new opening number composed by Worcester's own, Steve Gagliastro, who has a long history with the production both on and off stage. Gagliastro has been promoted to the role of music director following his many contributions as associate music director over the past decade. He was also instrumental in the music direction of the theatre's debut album last winter, Holidays at The Hanover Theatre Volume 1.

Be sure to get seated early to enjoy the pre-show concert featuring the largest and most versatile theatre pipe organ in New England, led by accomplished organist Sean Redrow.

Tickets for this holiday classic are on sale now for $39, $59 and $69 depending on seat location. Discounts are available for Broadway subscribers. For more information, please visit TheHanoverTheatre.org or contact the box office at 877.571.7469.
